

News & Messages – December 2008 & January 2009

Changes to Members Area Log in (13/01/2009) UPDATED 14/01/2009

IMPORTANT!

Existing members who have a password for the Members Area must now enter their password twice in both the username and password fields on the Member Log In page.

Once you have accessed the Members Area for the first time follow the instructions for requesting a new username and password.

If you have any queries or are unable to access the Members Area please e-mail us.

The way that ICRS members log in to the Members Area will be changing from tomorrow, 14th January 2009. These changes will make access more secure and easier to use. We anticipate these changes being implemented between 7pm-10pm on 14th January 2009 during which time there may be difficulty accessing some pages of the site particularly in the Members' Area.

Will all ICRS Members please note: you will be able to continue to use your existing username and password to access the Members' Area where there will be instructions on how to request a new username and password that will be required for continued access.

If you have any queries or problems accessing the Members' Area please e-mail the Web Site Manager.

Fotopic and Photo Gallery (03/01/2009) UPDATED 13/01/2009

The gallery is now available again and running normally - apologies for any inconvenience caused

We apologise that the ICRS Fotopic gallery is currently unavailable. At this time we are unaware as to why and are hopeful that normal service will be restored as soon as possible. Further updates will be posted here.

Web Site Refresh (02/12/2008)

The ICRS web site has undergone a mini-makeover with some slight changes to the colour scheme used on the page background and a new page banner, which is consistent across the site.

You will also notice that our Photo Gallery has now been completely migrated to the new Fotopic site. To enable finding and linking to the Fotopic site easier, there is an ICRS Gallery link button on every page of the site on the right hand side.

There have been some other minor changes and updates made with obsolete pages removed. All comments, questions and queries regarding these changes are welcome, please e-mail us.

Send us your photos! (02/12/2008)

Have you taken a really good or interesting shot of a railway scene recently? It doesn't matter whether it is a modern image or steam on a heritage line, light rail or underground, we would love to use your photos in our Fotopic Gallery. Full guidelines can be read here. Unfortunately we cannot offer payment for photos used but you will get yours (if selected) added to one of our collections and the possibility of your photos being seen by hundreds of railway enthusiasts. Our gallery also offers visitors to the chance to rate and comment on photos submitted.
