

News & Messages – May – July 2008

New ICRS Photo Gallery now live! (27/07/2008)

The new ICRS Photo Gallery at Fotopics is now live. You can visit our new gallery here. The new site offers a much improved experience, enabling you to search, comment and rate any of the photos in our collections. We are gradually migrating all of our existing collections either in whole or in part to the new Fotopic Gallery and will be adding lots of new photos not previously displayed in our current collections. If you would like to visit the existing collections on this site click here.

New Photo Gallery coming soon (21/07/2008)

A brand new ICRS Photo Gallery will be launching later this week, offering a much better experience for our visitors with a search facility to find a photo of a particular loco, unit or location, collections categorised in a more logical order and a much neater and easier to use layout. There will also be the opportunity for visitors to rate photos and leave their comments or ask questions about photos featured in the Gallery.

Full details will appear here later in the week.

Art in the Age of Steam, Walker Art Gallery, Liverpool (Posted: 20/05/2008)

The Walker Art Gallery in Liverpool is running a major exhibition entitled Art in the Age of Steam until 10 August 2008. The exhibition, which features around 100 works of art, looks at the impact that the advent of steam had on the landscape and society.

Full details of this fascinating exhibition together with examples of the artwork on display can be viewed on the Liverpool Museums web site. Admission is Free.

Bombay Railway at the Barbican Centre (Posted: 20/05/2008)

The Barbican Cinema in London is showing the film Bombay Railway, certificate PG, on Saturday 21 June at 3pm. The film, introduced by the director Gerry Troyna, tells the stories of the people who live and work on the train system which serves India's most populous city. Full details and ticket information can be found at www.barbican.org.uk/film.